1968

Stone Ridge Country Day School of the Sacred Heart
Washington, D.C.

The process of education is an intense, complex affair in that it involves so many things happening so quickly and yet so subtly. Education at Stone Ridge includes a curriculum and plan through which the student is guided toward meaning and truth in this vast, ever-changing world of today. The perpetual and ultimate goal is the development of the girl into a mature and independent woman capable, through her deep faith and courage in Christian principles, of adding some good, distinctly and individually hers, to the world.

The following pages will attempt to illustrate the pattern of this growth and development.

They have made reality of their ideals.

Through their guidance they have taught us to think clearly

to speak convincingly

to act decisively.

Through their interest in us as persons
they have opened up to us that special world
of the individual.

In appreciation

we the class of 1968

dedicate this yearbook

to the lay faculty of Stone Ridge.

*Pause, remember in complexities of time—
While days are young there is but love unbroken—
That life is built on growth of that which binds
All healing, guiding words, when spoken
In maturity combined with youth in love.
True wisdom cannot thrive without ideals,
And dedication, labor, knowledge of Things exigent, beautiful, and real.*

*We offer, then, our gratitude to her
Who has instructed us in every part
Of learning, growth, and womanhood, and spurred
Our minds to live according to our hearts.
We offer her a child's gift—joy: the joy of Remembering to remember is to love.*

*There was a child went forth every day,
And the first object he look'd upon, that object he became,
And that object became part of him for the day or a certain part of the day,
Or for many years or stretching cycles of years.*

CHRISTOPHER HEADS

The phrase "Christianity-in-action" means little in the world today, but it takes definite form at Stone Ridge through the organization known as the Christophers. This organization includes a number of smaller groups, each acting in a specific area. The members of the Social Club help coordinate the various social functions at Stone Ridge. Encouragement of participation in the liturgy through music is the chief concern of the Liturgical Choir. The girls of the St. Vincent's and the Home for the Incurables groups give of their time to comfort and cheer those less fortunate than themselves. One of the newer groups is the Kennedy Foundation, whose members work with retarded children every Saturday. The whole student body is involved in helping the Immaculate Conception parish. Not only does each contribute financially, but some direct art and singing programs for the children. Christopher means "Christ-bearer" and it is the aim of every Stone Ridge student to bring Christ into her daily encounters.

COMMITTEE OF GAMES

School spirit—that's a fine sounding phrase but it is not to be attained without organization and hard work. Drawn from the Junior and Senior classes and elected by the student body, the C. of G. is the backbone of our school spirit. They can be seen at all of our games, in the locker room, and at sports classes. It is their responsibility to coordinate blue-gold games, tally points, and promote enthusiastic school spirit. And once a year, the Committee of Games sponsors a surprise conge. The Committee embodies the best of Stone Ridge spirit in all of their activities.

The hockey teams at Stone Ridge this past season were outstanding. Special praise is in order for this year's all-senior Varsity. Due to their hard work, sportsmanship, and enthusiasm, plus the devoted efforts of Mrs. Young and Mrs. Madden, the 1967 team was able to boast an undefeated season. The J.V. also performed well, and we are sure we can look forward to their continued success as next year's Varsity.

WHAT!? You want MORE money?

Yes, Mother Siu, I'd LOVE to play for morning prayers!

Emily WHO??

Hey, catch this groovy thing
Sigmund Freud has to say!

But Mother Hurley, I'm just an innocent bystander!

Squelch.

*The cycle of growth and development is complete.
The cycle of growth starts over again.*

The yearbook staff would now like to give special thanks to those who played such a vital role in the production of the 1968 Ridgeway. A debt of gratitude is due to Mother Mouton for her invaluable and faithful help as moderator; to Mother Hurley for her unfailing support and life-saving imagination; to Mother Haigney and Mother Copeland for their patient cooperation and assistance; to the entire faculty for its generous consideration; to Mr. Hafner for his guidance and helpful suggestions. To Mr. Thomas L. Hoy we owe particular appreciation for all the time and talent he put into the photographs on our five divider pages; to Mary Pat Cullinan for her poem; to Carroll Connolly and Mary Wilson; to the entire Third Academic Class for their perpetual and invaluable support.

Mother Mouton

All of us at Stone Ridge will feel a void in our hearts when you leave us. As Mistress General, your encouragement, counsel and knowledge has been of immeasurable and lasting benefit to student and parent alike.

Your years of dedicated leadership and spiritual guidance have served as beacons of light for us to follow towards a well-meaning and fulfilled life.

Wherever you go, to teach, to counsel, to serve, our prayers go with you. We will miss you, Mother Mouton.
